

"SIMON'S POND"

words and music by Monroe Alfrey 10-11-94

Simon had a pond and the pond had a frog and the frog liked to sing a song each morning when the sun would shine before Simon opened up his eyes the frog in Simon's pond would sing Good morning to you Simon

Simon had a tree and the tree had a bird and the bird liked to sing a song each afternoon when Simon played while sitting in the nest she made the bird in Simon's tree would sing good day to you Simon

Simon had a field and the field had a cricket and the cricket liked to sing a song each evening when the sun would set and Simon climbed into his bed the cricket in Simon's field would sing goodnight to you Simon

And the frog
and the bird
and the cricket love to sing to you just like they do to Simon
